THE SITUATION

[illegible]

New York, Aug. 28.—[Special.]—The headquarters of both parties are now opened, the personal work for the fall is in full and both of their managements, it is believed, will be more pronounced together than of many years. It is by nothing could bring about the enthusiasm the present fall of the Democratic party, and the Republicans have the most confident feeling that they will carry the State by a handsome majority. Both parties are now in the midst of the political situation to speak to the people here of the necessity of an early and united effort to win the Empire State for the ticket and platform they have previously given their support to. The two parties are now about even in the number of clubs and active workers they have in the field, and the Republicans have the advantage of having a State ticket to vote for, while the Democrats have only the National ticket to work for. Both parties are now actively engaged in the work of organizing their forces, and the Democrats have the advantage of having a State ticket to vote for, while the Democrats have only the National ticket to work for. VIRGINIA

[illegible]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 28.—[Special.]—The situation in Virginia is giving the Democratic campaign managers much concern, and it is now said that unless Senator Daniel does his duty in addition to making the individual efforts in personal spite arrangements to the interest of the party neither of the Republican candidates will make him or money upon Virginia. Republicans here have reasoned to themselves that unless the voting population shall be headed not only to have no possibility that the Democratic vote of the State can be won from the Republicans, but there is a strong probability that two or three Congressional districts which ought to insure a good majority for the Republican Congressmen will go Democratic. Republicans who have just made a tour of the State say the best element of Democratic sentiment of the party leaders in Richmond, Petersburg, Lynchburg, and elsewhere says that the time, with the present price, has not only arrived the Southern against him, but a plan to nominate the same county and to send someone the best quantity of the Democratic Republicans and of the truest and truest Democratic leaders of the Republican party. The court appointed Mr. Austin L. Patterson, the present business manager of the Times, conservator of Mr. Storey's property.

THE Chicago produce markets were generally weaker yesterday, with larger receipts of grain and a light export demand for wheat. Provisions were dull. As compared with Wednesday, pork closed easy, lard [illegible] lower, inside the higher, wheat 1½c lower, corn ½ lower, oats ½c higher, and barley 1c higher.

BLAINE meetings throughout New York State are very largely attended. The country Republicans, with whom Blaine is a great favorite, attend in large numbers, and the Democratic workingmen are the first to take possession of the halls.

EMPEROR WILLIAM of Germany was thrown from his horse while riding in the park of the Imperial Palace at Schönberg yesterday. His injuries were slight and he will be prevented from taking active exercise for some days.

OVER one hundred and seven cholera cases appeared in Cairo yesterday. The epidemic is spreading with alarming rapidity in that country. At Tanta there were two deaths from cholera Wednesday night. At Mansoura there was but one fatal case.

THE Supervisors of the Third Indiana District nominated James Kilgore for Congress yesterday. The district is now represented by Mr. Cumback, who [illegible] Kilgore has been handicapped by Democratic [illegible]. It is expected that he will give Mr. Cumback a close run.

MRS. CLEVELAND and Mrs. Cornell had a dispute about some work at O'Brien, said Belleville, Ill., yesterday. Mrs. Cornell struck Mrs. Cornell with a shovel, inflicting a fatal wound. The accusation has so far had no bad house, which she committed suicide by cutting her throat.

A BAND of miscreants succeeded who seek to have some strike against the Illinois Central Railroad made their cost without effect while wrecking an East-road near Odessa, Ill., last Wednesday. A piece of rail had been placed in the "frog" of a crossing, but the obstruction was discovered by the engineer in time to stop the train and prevent a terrible accident.

DIRECTORS of the Tyler Armoury were re-elected by the Cook County Board yesterday. Rumor declared that amongst property, real and personal, or one-third of the value which said they amount or one-fourth. Be this value, while a few said that they had made one-third of the actual price of the property the basis of taxation. There was a sad lack of uniformity.

THE Lord Cranbrook, from Carnegie was held at Des Moines yesterday. J. S. Dailey of Endrick was nominated for Secretary of State and Lucas Barr of Tama County for State Treasurer. No other nominations were made. It is understood that the managers have an understanding with the Democrats and that there will be a fusion on the State and District tickets.

FERDINAND FABRE of France takes the editorial supremacies of the London Times to be the sentiments of the English people, and deeply resents the existence of that organ on the proceedings of the French in China. In an interview with a Parisian reporter yesterday he said that when the British bombarded Alexandria the French newspapers did not criticise the British in a hostile spirit. The British press, he thinks, is unduly respectful to and for the warlike attitude of the Chinese, and the British people are blinded to France from interested motives.

AT St. Louis yesterday S. Augusta Chesteen and Ida B. Taylor Chesteen, his wife, began suit in the Circuit Court against the Victorian Carroll corporation of that city to recover $150,000 worth of property which had been transferred to the corporation by Mrs. Louise B. Taylor, a younger sister of Mrs. Chesteen. The property was deeded by Mrs. Chesteen to her sister, who caused the warrant, but was to reconvey back to her if she ever remarried the latter. This she did recently, and when her property was returned to her she refused the warrant and gave the property to the corporation. Mrs. Chesteen alleges fraud and collusion on the part of the corporation, hence the suit.

TOPICS OF INTEREST.

A novel plan for preventing the labors of the laborers of the public by Common Councils has just been enacted in New York. It is the issue of an injunction by the courts on the application of private taxpayers to prevent the City Council passing over the Mayor's veto an ordinance permitting the construction of a horse railway in Broadway, which is the view of the property-owners is contrary to their duty. On such an application Judge Donohue of the Supreme Court of New York enjoined the Common Council of that city from giving away for nothing and without proper safeguards for the protection of the public the franchise for a street railway in Broadway. It was not pretended that the Council in giving away the franchise for nothing—having previously refused a million of dollars therefor—were doing anything that was specifically illegal, only something that was practices of the people might not be do.

If the injunction be maintained it amounts to nothing less than the establishment of the right of the courts to a veto upon acts of Common Councils that may be shown to be contrary to public policy. If Common Councils, which are local legislative bodies, can be enjoined in this way may not other Legislatures be similarly restrained?

An injunction is a necessary remedy, which can be granted or refused at the discretion of the Judge, and as it appears, as we see, the Executive veto, is overridden by a two-thirds vote, I hardly seem to be pointed out that if the new invention of the New York opponents of the Broadway railroad is granted a potent by the approval of the courts, the powers of Judges will be enormously increased and the character of legislative government will undergo a great change.

The essential facts of the case are simple. The City Council of New York a few days ago voted to give "Jacob Sharp and others" a franchise to lay a street railroad in Broadway from Fourteenth street to the Battery. They acted under the General Railroad act of 1884, just passed by the Legislature, which leaves upon the shoulder of the city to such street railroad concession as may be required by the Common Council to secure [illegible] the new asking for alike, and with a good understanding between them Tammany Regency and common sense and sensible citizens Gardner and Sennett.

POSITION OF INDEPENDENTS.

The Democratic Executive of his State have fused with the anti-Executive bolt so to congress organization under the name of the "People's party" and have intended their State Central Committee with authority to make up a joint Electoral ticket with either the Republican or Democratic party, as the anti-executive shall deem to the best interests of the Democratic People's party. In other words, they have gone into the movement in both their name and are ready to sell out to any one who will buy. The Democracy would advise them to keep their goods, as they have no value and are consequently unsalable.

This gang of political pettifogs, which has been made by a few demagogue and common spoils-seekers, has no elements of permanency. It is not durable enough for a single campaign. "The goods won't wash." The bolt of Executive will show that it has fallen to pieces. The Democracy of Illinois, like Democracy everywhere else, have decided what they sought. The decision of the Supreme Court on the validity of anti-trust and refusing preemptive writs on the ground of their unconstitution. They contended for the right of Congress to have and enforce provisions of Illinois, as against the claim of their opponents that the provisions were unlawful and void, and unconstitutional. They contended that the right of Congress to have and enforce provisions of Illinois, as against the claim of their opponents that the provisions were unlawful and void, and unconstitutional.

The Democracy are made up of Democrats and Democrats, and when the Democrats assert the true principles of their party, as the anti-executive platform does in the last utterance of the Democratic People's party, in other words, they have gone into the movement in both their name and are ready to sell out to any one who will buy. The Democracy would advise them to keep their goods, as they have no value and are consequently unsalable.

Today, New York exchange was quoted as follows yesterday:

Chicago, Par discount.
Boston, 5c discount.
Cincinnati, par.
St. Louis, 25@50c premium.
New Orleans, $1.50 premium.

Operations on the stock exchanges again on Monday quickly in evidence, and it was perhaps to have been the majority of the brokers again made up their minds to a moderate drift of trade the coming day. No very high or permanent lines have belonged to, but even the withdrawal of a considerable of trade incident to the movement of the crops and the preparations of those people whose options to work having consider the present season the beginning of better times, but they think that the prosperity will come slowly. The present unless the crop should continued to be small proportion, and there may be changes in the time situation. Money may be plentiful at 2@3 per cent for call on choice commercial discounts, the bulk of the loans being made at 4, and funds were abundant at 5. Sterling exchange was firm, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.85@4.85½ for sixty days and $4.87½@4.87¾ for demand. Commercial bills were $4.83½@4.84. Francs were quoted at 5.18¾@5.18½ for long and 5.16¼@5.16¾ for short. Reichsmarks were 94½@94¾ for long and 95@95¼ for short. Guilders were 39¾@39¾ for long and 40@40¼ for short. Government bonds were dull and steady. State bonds were inactive. Railroad bonds were dull and irregular. The stock market was dull and weak, with a general decline of ½@1 per cent, and Lake Shore, Missouri Pacific, Northwestern, Rock Island, St. Paul, Union Pacific and Western Union were the most active. The following were the closing quotations of the New York Exchange:

The sales on the New York Stock Exchange were 341,000 shares. The market was dull and the absence of selling pressure helped some what prices all round. There were evidences of manipulation here in the day, but one of the leading houses in this city got points to sell at and nothing for a maximum profit to a very short time. Some of the dispatches were of a cheering character to the public, crowding with the speculators to take profits at their top notch and get out shorts. Traders in response to these telegrams on all, there was more selling for the account of Chicago operators, probably for lack of those stocks were long. Such were the case with selling. The movement to sell a few days was a point of weight to them, though the reports are conflicting. It is certain that a number of the most bulls got scared and sold out at a loss. The selling was so great that it was noticed on a bourse in New York, and dispatches were sent to the city asking what was the matter. One telegram, in reply, said the reason of more lighting among the crowds running westward from this city. The public and bank were hearty the Chicago Union Pacific and Missouri, Kansas & Texas. The reports that the big bears (Vanderbilt and Gould) have entered the market for a campaign were considered more confirmatory than ever. Opposite it seems to be a game. The feeling in regard to the Pool is growing more hopeful, though the Vanderbilt is said to be advising the bears to sell their stocks to it. The effects of the rapid rise last week declined on the Stock, and after this it was difficult to a response for the rest of the list, and was done still to an further loss of stock to them. Confidence appears to exist among that Union Pacific is now speaking of the rate of 4 per cent on the stock.
